News In Brief Dominica OKs U.S. Probe of Latin Consul

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo says the former Dominican consul in New York can answer questions about the disappearance of Prof. Jesus de Galindez. But the questioning would have to take place here and not in the United States.

A grand jury in Washington, D. C., indicated last year that it wanted Arturo Espallat as a witness in the case of Galindez, who vanished en route from Columbia University to his New York apartment in March 1956. Galindez was an outspoken critic of Trujillo's regime.

Espallat was suddenly transferred from New York back to Ciudad Trujillo and made state security chief. He is now the navy's inspector general.

"If American authorities wish to send someone here, Espallat could be questioned, even in the U. S. Embassy," Trujillo said.

Asked why Espallat had not volunteered to appear before the grand jury, Trujillo said he wondered whether the United States would permit one of its diplomats to travel to the Soviet Union, for example, to testify there.

Trujillo has insisted that the Dominican government had nothing to do with Galindez' case.

MESSINA, Sicily (AP) — Two of Italy's most active volcanoes, Stromboli and Etna, are erupting but there was no immediate threat to farms and villages around them.

Stromboli, on a Mediterranean island north of the Sicilian port, went into action Thursday after almost two years of rest. Etna, a 10,700-foot volcano on Sicily north of Messina, has been in a state of intermittent activity for more than four months.

LONDON (AP) — The British Assn. for the Advancement of Science today hailed the American earth satellite as a brilliant achievement.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today announced it plans to adopt a capitalistic practice to help ease Russia's severe housing shortage—the sale of prefabricated homes on the installment plan.

Although the Soviets have frequently condemned the installment plan in the past, V. N. Nazarov, an official of the Ministry of Heavy Industry, said:

Blaze Destroys Palm's Barn

A fire last night at about 10:30 destroyed a barn and cattle shed on the Russell Palm farm on Stoutsville Pike about one mile east of Circleville.

Loss was estimated at $10,000. The barn was a 40-by-60 foot heavy timber bank structure. The cattle shed was a 24-by-60 foot building attached to the barn.

Equipment and items destroyed inside the barn included two corn plows, a corn planter, hay rake, manure spreader, milking equipment, 100 bushels of oats, 100 pounds of ground feed and numerous bales of hay and straw.

Palm said no cattle were lost but several lambs may have perished in the flames. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

Circleville firemen answered the alarm. They said flames were visible for about 10 miles.

First U.S. ICBM Readied for 1959

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas said today the first operational U. S. unit armed with an intercontinental ballistic missile will be at its post by December, 1959.

Douglas told the House Armed Services Committee the missile is the Air Force Atlas, which is designed to carry an atomic or hydrogen warhead 5,500 miles.

Douglas' testimony, made public in a censored form, provided official confirmation of reports the Air Force is approaching the point of declaring the Atlas a battle-ready weapon.

America, Soviet Appear Ready To Open New Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union appeared about ready today to open the diplomatic negotiations which may eventually lead to an East-West summit conference.

A new Soviet ambassador, Mikhail A. Menshikov, arrived to take command of Moscow's embassy here. He is expected to seek prompt meetings with Secretary of State Dulles and President Eisenhower to present his credentials and thus clear the way for active work.

Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, who has been home for two weeks of consultation on U. S.-Soviet relations and summit conference problems, is leaving Washington today and will get back to Moscow early next week.

Thompson is expected to meet soon with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to find out how the Soviet government wants to proceed on negotiations for a top level meeting.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin advised President Eisenhower in a message last Sunday that the Soviet Union agreed to an exchange of ideas through diplomatic channels to prepare the way for a conference.

Eisenhower has insisted that very careful preparation, offering hope of positive agreements, is essential before a conference can be arranged.

Although the Soviet Union and the Western powers are tightly deadlocked on such major issues as the future of Germany and basic disarmament problems, some officials are known to feel that prolonged negotiation eventually may make some headway toward initial arms control arrangements and measures to prevent surprise attack.

Meanwhile, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee resumed its examination of administration policy today after Senate Republicans united in deploring Russia's veiled jab at Dulles.

Even some Republicans who frequently criticize Dulles joined in praising the secretary.

What aroused their resentment was a remark contained in Sunday's letter from Bulganin to Eisenhower.

In opposing a foreign ministers' meeting as a possible prelude to a summit conference, Bulganin spoke of the "biased position of certain possible participants." This thrust was believed aimed at Dulles.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), who has voiced disagreement with various Dulles policies, said Bulganin's letter of Feb. 3 was "little short of insulting" to the secretary.

"Seldom, if ever, has a chief of government dared so to reflect upon the foreign minister of the government he is addressing," Bridges said.

WIGGINS' STRONG endorsement of the Moss bill was paralleled in separate prepared testimony by Washington Atty. Irving Ferman for the American Civil Liberties Union and by Harold L. Cross, freedom of information counsel for the ASNE.

Wiggins said the 1789 law was plainly intended only as a house-keeping statute. If its framers had meant otherwise, he said, they could have written the words "concealment, withholding and secrecy" into the law authorizing "custody, use and preservation" of records.

"Departmental usage has corrupted and distorted the plain meaning of the statute," Wiggins said, making it irreconcilable with the principles of the First (freedom of speech) Amendment and inconsistent with the right of citizens to know about the conduct of their own government."

Ohio Farmers
Lead Rebellion
In Wheat Plan

COLUMBUS (AP) — Non-compliance with federal wheat planting restrictions has been more extensive in Ohio than in any other state in the country, according to figures announced Thursday.

Wheat planted in excess of acreage allotments was harvested on 556 Ohio farms last year, resulting in penalty assessments totaling $56,918.

Only about one-third of the assessments have been collected and in 37 cases the government has filed civil actions in Federal Court to force the growers to pay.

Dave T. Herrman, administrative officer of the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, supplied the figures on the Ohio rebellion against wheat planting quotas.

Stassen Seen Quitting Ike
For Pennsy Governor's Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen headed for a talk with President Eisenhower today amid reports that Stassen probably will be asked to quit if he doesn't do so voluntarily.

A top White House lieutenant indicated a few days ago that Eisenhower has decided that Stassen's disarming feud with Secretary of State Dulles had ended his usefulness.

Stassen has been battling Dulles behind the scenes over the shape of future disarmament policy and has even challenged what he considers the secretary's "negative" attitude toward negotiations with the Soviets.

Eisenhower, himself officially a Pennsylvania resident, was asked at his news conference Wednesday about Stassen's future and the possibility of his seeking the governorship post.

Eisenhower, noting he was conferring with Stassen this week, said: "Now he, as I understand, expressed some interest in being a governor, and I want to say very frankly that there are many traits of his that I believe to be admirable fitting for such an office. He is a great administrator and he is an indefatigable worker."

But Rep. Stinson, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee and dean of the Pennsylvania GOP House delegation, said:

"The President probably plans to relieve Stassen from his present job and, with his tongue in cheek, suggested that Pennsylvania might be willing to accept the discarded Mr. Stassen as its governor. I'm sure Pennsylvania will not do this, preferring a native Pennsylvanian."

DETROIT (AP) — Archie Kool, 65, a former blacksmith, appeared before Judge W. McKay Skillman for sentencing.

Kool, who has no home, had been found guilty of being drunk. He was arrested while trying to shoe a parking meter on busy Michigan Avenue.

"I remember when I helped a smithie make a pung (a horse drawn sled)," Judge Skillman said in passing sentence.

"The good old days are gone," he told Kool. "Fifteen dollars or 10 days."

Bandit Uses Crippled Girl As Shield

NEW YORK (AP) — A goateed gunman, using a lame girl as a hostage, held up a Bronx bank branch Thursday and escaped with two shopping bags full of $12,440 in bills.

The bandit, a Negro, strode into the crowded Manufacturers Trust Co. branch, seized the lame girl, about 12 years old, and ordered bank employees and customers to obey his orders or "I'll shoot the kid if you don't."

He shoved a shopping bag into the hands of a woman customer and forced her to collect banknotes at the windows of four tellers. The bank manager himself was compelled to put money into another bag.

Then, taking the child, another youngster and a woman believed to be their mother with him, the man disappeared.

Police said they learned the woman and the two children were released outside the bank.

Navy Ready Third Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) — The Navy, plagued by two failures, has two more Vanguard rockets here. One may be launched later this month with a miniature satellite aboard. The later rocket will attempt to launch a 21½-pound sphere into orbit around the earth.

The Navy optimism about the future is based on its findings that it lost its last Vanguard satellite rocket because of wiring failure and pinned suspicion on two possible causes, moisture seepage and vibration.

This is the area in rocketry where it is difficult to pinpoint a defect. The persons associated with Project Vanguard may never be quite sure exactly where the trouble developed.

One expert at the Air Force missile test center here put it this way: "Broken circuitry prevented the Vanguard's gyroscopes, in the far forward end of the second stage, from correcting the missile's abnormal motions."

"As far as we can tell this disruption of circuits was the result of moisture accumulation, or of vibration."

THE THREE-stage Vanguard rocket, with a gold-plated baby satellite in its nose, rose straight and true from its launching stand Wednesday.

The Navy said flight records showed that after 57 seconds the missile developed some "small irregularities in the first-stage engine control system" for three seconds.

Normally the Vanguard's automatic pilot (its gyroscope equipment only seven feet from the tip of the missile nose) would have sensed any irregularity and transmitted corrective commands to the rocket engine at the rear of the main stage.

Charts showed that the correcting signal failed to reach the first stage mechanism that would correct the engine's position and provide a change in direction.

The huge rocket was forced sharply to the right. The strain broke it in two.

Vibration is a constant problem

'Apparently Exorbitant' Bell Rate Hike Hit by Saxbe

COLUMBUS (AP) — Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said today he will vigorously oppose "apparently exorbitant" new rates proposed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Saxbe made his views known before he attended a meeting here of city attorneys expected to fight the telephone company's request for a $28 million rate increase.

"I am doubtful that the telephone company can justify the apparently exorbitant rates proposed in its current request," Saxbe said. "It amounts to almost $1.50 per month for the average home telephone and more for business telephones."

City attorneys from most of Ohio's large cities were meeting this afternoon to discuss the company's rate application. Company officials are to meet with them later.

Saxbe said the state of Ohio probably is the largest single user of telephone service, from a cost basis. He said:

"It is my intention to work with the cities and any other interested groups or individuals and to vigorously oppose unjustified increases in already high rates."

Saxbe is the legal adviser to the Utilities Commission, which will hear the rate increase application. "I feel it is my duty as a public law officer to present all competent facts and evidence from whatever source to insure that the public is fairly represented," Saxbe said.

Proposal Made By Smaller Competitor

American Motors
Chief Says Aim Is To Dilute Union Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of American Motors Corp. today urged Congress to break up General Motors and Ford into smaller companies and split the bargaining forces of the United Auto Workers.

Otherwise the spring auto wage bargaining may send "another blockbuster chain reaction wage-price spiral across industrial America," said George Romney in testimony before a Senate Antitrust subcommittee studying auto industry price policies.

Romney, whose company is one of the two comparatively small independent producers surviving, declared that "economic power in the automobile industry should be limited and divided."

To curb what he called "union monopolies," he proposed that the power to bargain with big firms in any basic industry be lodged with unions "exclusively representing the employees of a single employer."

Romney suggested that any company which approaches a dominant place in a basic industry be compelled to split itself.

THE BREAKUP point, he suggested should come when a firm exceeds 35 per cent of the total sales in its industry; or, if it is engaged in more than one basic industry, 25 per cent.

"Frankly this proposal, if adopted, would make several new companies out of the Big Three," said Romney, referring to Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and the Chrysler Corp.

Actually, he explained, only GM and Ford would be affected at this time. GM, because of its "outstanding success in the automobile and several other basic industries," and Ford, because of its importance in autos and farm machinery, "would become the sources for at least two or three new companies," Romney said.

After crossing the 35 per cent line, Romney explained, the company would be obliged to submit to the government a plan for splitting off part of its operations as a new and going concern.

Romney said, "General Motors and Ford stockholders, executives, employees and customers could be expected to benefit."

A dispersal of the UAW's bargaining power, he argued, would lift the auto producers from "underdog" status and restore them to equality in wage bargaining.

Suspensions Face Rowdies In Gotham

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Board of Education has ruled that, effective today, any public school student accused of violence or insubordination shall be suspended from regular school attendance.

The board's new order is "a departure from previous policy."

The school agency's ruling followed by only a few hours the urging by a special Brooklyn grand jury of "prompt emergency action to clear out of our schools that 1 per cent who prevent the decent 99 per cent from getting the benefit of almost one-half billion dollars of our tax money."

The grand jury has been probing violence, including a recent wave of raping, knifing, assaults and general lawlessness, in the city's 900 public schools housing a million pupils.

In its edict the board made it clear that "under existing conditions no instruction can be provided for suspended pupils."

This poses the problem of what to do with pupils ejected from the schools. Youth House, in the Bronx, is now the only place to which delinquent minors can be remanded for temporary custody pending hearing of their cases. Youth House already is overcrowded.

U.S. Secrecy Trend Spreads

WASHINGTON (U)—A spokesman for America's newspaper editors said today a "suffocatingly pervasive" climate of secrecy is spreading through the vast federal government.

J. R. Wiggins, vice president and executive editor of the Washington Post, spoke for the American Society of Newspaper Editors in asking the House Government Information Subcommittee to approve a bill which he called a "timid beginning" against the secrecy trend.

The bill would specify that a 169-year-old law empowering federal department heads to prescribe regulations for handling records does not provide authority to keep records secret. All 10 government departments oppose the bill.

Subcommittee Chairman Moss (D-Calif.) indicated he might depart from congressional practice and seek approval of the bill in open session.

Stassen Seen Quitting Ike For Pennsy Governor's Race

WASHINGTON (U)—Harold E. Stassen headed for a talk with President Eisenhower today amid reports that he's not the man for governor.

Stassen's talk with Eisenhower may be his last as the President's special assistant on disarmament. His friends said they expect him to announce, within a few days, that he is quitting the administration to seek the GOP nomination for Pennsylvania governor.

"As far as we can tell this disruption of circuits was the result of moisture accumulation, or of vibration."

THE THREE - stage Vanguard rocket, with a gold - plated baby satellite in its nose, rose straight and true from its launching stand Wednesday.

The Navy said flight records showed that after 57 seconds the missile developed some "small irregularities in the first-stage engine control system" for three seconds.

Normally the Vanguard's automatic pilot (its gyroscope equipment only seven feet from the tip of the missile nose) would have sensed any irregularity and transmitted corrective commands to the rocket engine at the rear of the main stage.

Charts showed that the correcting signal failed to reach the first stage mechanism that would correct the engine's position and provide a change in direction. The huge rocket was forced sharply to the right. The strain broke it in two.

'Apparently Exorbitant' Bell Rate Hike Hit by Saxbe

COLUMBUS (U)—Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said today he will vigorously oppose "apparently exorbitant" new rates proposed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Saxbe made his views known before he attended a meeting here of city attorneys expected to fight the telephone company's request for a $28 million rate increase.

"I am doubtful that the telephone company can justify the apparently exorbitant rates proposed in its current request," Saxbe said. "It amounts to almost $1.50 per month for the average home telephone and more for business telephones."

City attorneys from most of Ohio's large cities were meeting this afternoon to discuss the com-

Proposal Made By Smaller Competitor

American Motors Chief Says Aim Is To Dilute Union Power

WASHINGTON (U)—The president of American Motors Corp. today urged Congress to break up General Motors and Ford into smaller companies and split the bargaining forces of the United Auto Workers.

Otherwise the spring auto wage bargaining may send "another blockbuster chain reaction wage-price spiral across industrial America," said George Romney in testimony before a Senate Antitrust subcommittee studying auto industry price policies.

Romney, whose company is one of the two comparatively small independent producers surviving, declared that "economic power in the automobile industry should be limited and divided."

To curb what he called "union monopolies," he proposed that the power to bargain with big firms in any basic industry be lodged with unions "exclusively representing the employees of a single employer."

Romney suggested that any company which approaches a dominant place in a basic industry be compelled to split itself.

THE BREAKUP point, he suggested, should come when a firm exceeds 35 per cent of the total sales in its industry; or, if it is engaged in more than one basic industry, 25 per cent.

"Frankly this proposal, if adopted, would make several new companies out of the Big Three," said Romney, referring to Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and the Chrysler Corp.

Actually, he explained, only GM and Ford would be affected at this time. GM, because of its "outstanding success in the automobile and several other basic industries," and Ford, because of its importance in autos and farm machinery, "would become the sources for at least two or three new companies," Romney said.

After crossing the 35 per cent line, Romney explained, the company would be obliged to submit to the government a plan for splitting off part of its operations as a new and going concern.

Romney said, "General Motors and Ford stockholders, executives, employees and customers could be expected to benefit."

A dispersal of the UAW's bargaining power, he argued, would lift the auto producers from "underdog" status and restore them to equality in wage bargaining.

Suspensions Face Rowdies In Gotham

NEW YORK (U)—The City Board of Education has ruled that, effective today, any public school student accused of violence or insubordination shall be suspended from regular school attendance.

The board's new order is "a departure from previous policy."

The school agency's ruling followed by only a few hours the urging by a special Brooklyn grand jury of "prompt emergency action to clear out of our schools that 1 per cent who prevent the decent 99 per cent from getting the benefit of almost one-half billion dollars of our tax money."

The grand jury has been probing violence, including a recent wave of raping, knifing, assaults and general lawlessness, in the city's 900 public schools housing a million pupils.

In its edict the board made it clear that "under existing conditions no instruction can be provided for suspended pupils."

This poses the problem of what to do with pupils ejected from the schools. Youth House, in the Bronx, is now the only place to which delinquent minors can be remanded for temporary custody pending hearing of their cases. Youth House already is overcrowded.

Boy May Lose Sight; Amateur Rocket Blows

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP)—Robert Leslie Hartz, 16, may lose his sight because his homemade rocket blew up.

Robert made a small rocket of half-inch copper tubing, using sulphur and potassium nitrate for fuel and a fuse of gunpowder.

Paper of 1895 Shows Drastic Changes Here

Circleville, circa 1895, was brought to light this week when Ralph Meinfelter, Route 3, found an issue of the old Daily Union Herald, dated Feb. 7, 1895. Meinfelter found the ancient paper behind a picture in his home. Other than a faded yellow look, the publication is in excellent condition.

A comparison with modern day newspapers shows many changes since that day in 1895. The biggest difference appears to be market prices now and what they were then.

Local housewives looking for bargains would be amazed if they had the opportunity to walk down Main St. in 1895 and do their shopping.

Men's buckle articles were selling for $1.25. Women's articles were listed at the unbelievable price of 75 cents.

These buys were available at the Boston Shoe Store, 126 W. Main St. The shoe was owned by A. Morris and son.

Potatoes were selling for 60 cents per bushel and cane sugar could be purchased at 25 pounds for $1.

Entertainment was available, too. The local opera house was featuring a minstrel, said to be one of the finest shows to hit Circleville in years.

The Daily Union Herald, in its second year of operation, could be purchased for 10 cents per week.

Immediate Tax Cut Is Urged

Chamber of Commerce Group Outlines Ples

WASHINGTON (AP)—An immediate start on income tax reduction was urged today by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce, which said such a move would be a big help in "turning around the recession."

The council's recommendations, calling for graduated annual tax cuts, were contained in testimony prepared by Clarence D. Laylin of Columbus for the House Ways and Means Committee. That group is winding up five weeks of hearings on general tax revision.

"We believe strongly that the tax reductions of 1954 and the tax revision of 1954 helped materially in turning around the recession which started in the fall of 1953 and ended in the summer of 1954," Laylin said.

"We are equally convinced that tax rate reductions at this time would have a similar effect on the current recession."

The council recommended to Congress lowering the maximum individual rate from 91 to 82 per cent and the minimum rate from 20 to 19 per cent.

ADDITIONAL rate reductions annually until the top rate is reduced to 50 per cent also were urged.

It proposed an immediate cut in corporation income taxes from 52 to 50 per cent, with the rate ultimately reduced to 47 per cent.

As the committee concluded hearing suggestions from more than 300 witnesses, immediate tax action was not in prospect.

The possibility of future income tax cuts depends pretty much on the severity and length of the business recession, in the opinion of House tax specialists.

Stock Mart Trading Off, Prices Drift

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted to the downside in slack trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks were down fractions to about a point. There were scattered gains.

Steels, aircrafts, motors, rails and base metals were lower. Most chemicals and oils declined. Rubbers, farm implements, airlines, radio-televisions and motion pictures were mixed.

American Motors had a spate of activity after its president, George Romney, urged Congress to break up General Motors and Ford into smaller companies and split the bargaining forces of the United Auto Workers. The stock was fractionally higher after several big blocks were traded.

The "Big Three" auto makers were fractionally lower.

In general, the economic news brought no encouragement although there was a good rise in steel scrap prices at Pittsburgh. Steel shares showed no response.

Pre-weekend caution was a factor in the low turnover.

Newport News shipbuilding dropped around 2 points on concern over recent cancellation of orders for three ships and reports of a slump in new orders for ships generally. New York shipbuilding was unchanged.

Youngstown Sheet dropped more than a point. Losses of around a point were taken by U. S. Steel, International Nickel, Boeing, Anaconda, Du Pont, Douglas Aircraft, American Tobacco and Gulf Oil.

Zenith snapped back about 2 points from Thursday's loss for a while and later showed a fractional gain. Air Reduction was ahead around a point. Smaller gains were made by Schering, American Can, Caterpillar, Royal Duteh and Trans World Air Lines.

U. S. government bonds were a little higher in moderate dealings.

Boy Scouts Operating City

Scout Day was in full progress today as a total of 59 scouts invaded city and county offices and several of Circleville's larger manufacturing plants.

The young Scouts, from 2nd class on up, were receiving the individual attention of the elected officials, who were explaining the functions and duties of their offices.

Many of the boys actually were participating in the operations of the office routine by stamping and mailing letters, running errands and listening intently to the respective members of the office staffs.

Other officials were giving the Scouts the grand tour of the city and county offices after they had briefed the boys on his own office. At noon the officials treated the boys to lunch and then they returned to continue their instructions.

All in all the Scouts were receiving a thorough education in civic affairs that would have been impossible had it not been for the full cooperation of the city and county officials.

Court Enjoys Barber's Song

Last week Joseph Cataldo, 45, and Lenore Cataldo, 28, were married in Circleville Municipal Court by Judge Sterling Lamb.

The Cataldos had been married previously and divorced in 1950. After seven years they decided to remarry. Cataldo is the personification of the "singing barber" as he barbers by profession and studies singing in the evenings.

Cataldo has spent time in Italy learning the fine art of opera singing and presently is making records in Cleveland. He promised to send the staff of the Pickaway County Probate Court, who issued the marriage license, one of his records.

Mr. and Mrs. Cataldo will reside in Lorain with their children Laura Lee, 7, and Roberta, 6. While applying for the license, Cataldo explained opera singing and gave a few renditions to his captive audience.

41 Guests Routed From Hotel in Lima

LIMA (AP)—Forty-one guests, one in a wheelchair, were routed from the four-story Milner Hotel today by a fire which ate a hole from the second floor to the roof.

The only casualties were 25 canaries and a number of hamsters and rabbits in Esta's Pet Shop on the first floor. Firemen estimated damage at $20,000.

The fire apparently broke out in the third-floor room of James Boroff, 60, who turned in the alarm after he was awakened by the smoke. Boroff escaped in a wheelchair.

Boy May Lose Sight; Amateur Rocket Blows

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — Robert Leslie Hartz, 16, may lose his sight because his homemade rocket blew up.

Robert made a small rocket of half-inch copper tubing, using sulphur and potassium nitrate for fuel and a fuse of gunpowder.

The accident was Wednesday night in a back yard test. Robert lit the fuse. Nothing happened. When he leaned over it to see what was wrong, it exploded, driving bits of metal into his face, neck and hands.

Paper of 1895 Shows Drastic Changes Here

Circleville, circa 1895, was brought to light this week when Ralph Meinfelder, Route 3, found an issue of the old Daily Union Herald, dated Feb. 7, 1895.

Meinfelder found the ancient paper behind a picture in his home. Other than a faded yellow look, the publication is in excellent condition.

A comparison with modern day newspapers shows many changes since that day in 1895. The biggest difference appears to be in market prices now and what they were then.

Local housewives looking for bargains would be amazed if they had the opportunity to walk down Main St. in 1895 and do their shopping.

Men's buckle articles were selling for $1.25. Women's articles were listed at the unbelievable price of 75 cents.

These buys were available at the Boston Shoe Store, 126 W. Main St. The firm was owned by A. Morris and son.

Potatoes were selling for 60 cents per bushel and cane sugar could be purchased at 25 pounds for $1.

Entertainment was available, too. The local opera house was featuring a minstrel, said to be one of the finest shows to hit Circleville in years.

The Daily Union Herald, in its second year of operation, could be purchased for 10 cents per week.

Court Active In January

The Pickaway County Common Pleas Court disposed of 45 cases during January. Of this total, five were domestic relations, 10 were civil and 30 were criminal cases.

The 30 criminal cases disposed of is 17 more than during December due to the January Grand Jury action. Many of the persons indicted pleaded guilty and were sentenced immediately.

Pending as of February 1, are 59 domestic relations, 111 civil and 49 criminal cases.

Disposed of by court action were one domestic relations and 16 criminal cases. One criminal and one civil case were tried by juries.

Four civil cases were cognovit or default judgments. Four domestic relations, five civil and 13 criminal cases were settled or dismissed.

Immediate Tax Cut Is Urged

Chamber of Commerce Group Outlines Plea

WASHINGTON (AP)—An immediate start on income tax reduction was urged today by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce, which said such a move would be a big help in "turning around the recession."

The council's recommendations, calling for graduated annual tax cuts, were contained in testimony prepared by Clarence D. Laylin of Columbus for the House Ways and Means Committee. That group is winding up five weeks of hearings on general tax revision.

"We believe strongly that the tax reductions of 1954 and the tax revision of 1954 helped materially in turning around the recession which started in the fall of 1953 and ended in the summer of 1954," Laylin said.

"We are equally convinced that tax rate reductions at this time would have a similar effect on the current recession."

The council recommended to Congress lowering the maximum individual rate from 91 to 82 per cent and the minimum rate from 20 to 19 per cent.

ADDITIONAL rate reductions annually until the top rate is reduced to 50 per cent also were urged.

It proposed an immediate cut in corporation income taxes from 52 to 50 per cent, with the rate ultimately reduced to 47 per cent.

As the committee concluded hearing suggestions from more than 300 witnesses, immediate tax action was not in prospect.

The possibility of future income tax cuts depends pretty much on the severity and length of the business recession, in the opinion of House tax specialists.

Stock Mart Trading Off, Prices Drift

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted to the downside in slack trading early this afternoon. Key stocks were down fractions to about a point. There were scattered gains.

Steels, aircrafts, motors, rails and base metals were lower. Most chemicals and oils declined. Rubbers, farm implements, airlines, radio-televisions and motion pictures were mixed.

American Motors had a spate of activity after its president, George Romney, urged Congress to break up General Motors and Ford into smaller companies and split the bargaining forces of the United Auto Workers. The stock was fractionally higher after several big blocks were traded.

The "Big Three" auto makers were fractionally lower.

In general, the economic news brought no encouragement although there was a good rise in steel scrap prices at Pittsburgh. Steel shares showed no response. Pre-weekend caution was a factor in the low turnover.

Newport News shipbuilding dropped around 2 points on concern over recent cancellation of orders for three ships and reports of a slump in new orders for ships generally. New York shipbuilding was unchanged.

Youngstown Sheet dropped more than a point. Losses of around a point were taken by U. S. Steel, International Nickel, Boeing, Anaconda, Du Pont, Douglas Aircraft, American Tobacco and Gulf Oil.

Zenith snapped back about 2 points from Thursday's loss for a while and later showed a fractional gain. Air Reduction was ahead around a point. Smaller gains were made by Schering, American Can, Caterpillar, Royal Dutch and Trans World Air Lines.

U. S. government bonds were a little higher in moderate dealings.

Beaver Dam, Ky. (AP)—It's 45 days in jail for Calvin Parks, a man with a liking for honey.

Parks was convicted of petty larceny on a charge of stealing a bee hive, the bees and some honey from farmer Jeff Aldridge.

A search turned up a quart of strained honey and a dishpan full of honeycomb at Parks' home. The bees were outside in the snow—dead.

Boy Scouts Operating City

Scout Day was in full progress today as a total of 59 scouts invaded city and county offices and several of Circleville's larger manufacturing plants.

The young Scouts, from 2nd class on up, were receiving the individual attention of the elected officials, who were explaining the functions and duties of their offices.

Many of the boys actually were participating in the operations of the office routine by stamping and mailing letters, running errands and listening intently to the respective members of the office staffs.

Other officials were giving the Scouts the grand tour of the city and county offices after they had briefed the boys on their own office. At noon the officials treated the boys to lunch and then they returned to continue their instructions.

All in all the Scouts were receiving a thorough education in civic affairs that would have been impossible had it not been for the full cooperation of the city and county officials.

Court Enjoys Barber's Song

Last week Joseph Cataldo, 45, and Lenore Cataldo, 28, were married in Circleville Municipal Court by Judge Sterling Lamb.

The Cataldos had been married previously and divorced in 1950. After seven years they decided to remarry. Cataldo is the personification of the "singing barber" as he barbers by profession and studies singing in the evenings.

Cataldo has spent time in Italy learning the fine art of opera singing and presently is making records in Cleveland. He promised to send the staff of the Pickaway County Probate Court, who issued the marriage license, one of his records.

Mr. and Mrs. Cataldo will reside in Lorain with their children Laura Lee, 7, and Roberta, 6.

While applying for the license, Cataldo explained opera singing and gave a few renditions to his captive audience.

41 Guests Routed From Hotel in Lima

LIMA (AP)—Forty-one guests, one in a wheelchair, were routed from the four-story Milner Hotel today by a fire which ate a hole from the second floor to the roof.

The only casualties were 25 canaries and a number of hamsters and rabbits in Esta's Pet Shop on the first floor. Firemen estimated damage at $20,000.

The fire apparently broke out in the third-floor room of James Boroff, 60, who turned in the alarm after he was awakened by the smoke. Boroff escaped in a wheelchair.

Park Meter Checkers Proven Too Efficient

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Motorist E. G. Albright parked his car in a location where there was no parking meter.

When he returned to his automobile, there was a new parking meter and a red ticket on his windshield.

The City Parking Meter Department supported his story to police that the meter was installed while Albright was absent. Officers destroyed the ticket.

Transcontinental Flights In Hour Expected in Offing

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles reporting the vast changes now being recorded in America's massive transportation system.

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Writer

"You will be able to cross the continent in scarcely more than an hour, span the Atlantic in less than two hours and the Pacific in scarcely four hours."

This is Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of Eastern Air Lines, talking. He is not talking about the distant future. He is talking about the day after tomorrow.

The airplane and the private automobile are revolutionizing transportation in the United States. This revolution will accelerate in the next decade.

In two years, Rickenbacker says airplanes "will be cruising high above the weather with silent, vibrationless comfort, initially in the speed band of sound, or about 600 miles an hour. Continuing advances in the development of jet power will move these speeds up to 2,500 miles an hour."

On the ground, millions of private automobiles will travel new, high-speed highways.

Within the next 13 years, 9 out of every 10 cities with a population of 80,000 or more will be linked by new superhighways. The federal government will finance construction of 41,000 miles. Estimated cost: more than 37 billion dollars.

Today, toll highways amount to only a little more than 2,000 miles.

If the cities are strangling in traffic jams as drivers hunt for parking spaces, if they are losing passenger train service, if they cannot solve the problems of mass transportation—if all these things are true, and they are, there is one thing they can do. They can build airports. Look around.

In Salt Lake City work will start in July on a 10-million-dollar project to accommodate jet airplanes.

New Orleans recently acquired Moisant International Airport at

Kenner, La., 15 miles west, and is engaged in a two-million-dollar renovation program. A monorail system to downtown New Orleans is being discussed. Indianapolis is building longer runways (for jets) at its new air terminal, completed in 1956.

New facilities at Boston's Logan Airport will cost 23 million dollars.

A two-million-dollar improvement program is scheduled to start this year at Des Moines Municipal Airport.

Kansas City has constructed a new airport 17 miles north of its downtown area. Toledo has a new airport. St. Louis completed its modernistic Lambert-St. Louis Field only two years ago, finds it is already taxed to handle traffic.

Chicago has put O'Hare Field into operation, helping to relieve congestion at the nation's most heavily used airport—Midway. From 1947 until the end of this year the Port Authority of New York will have put 235 million dollars into Idlewild International Airport.

Major airport construction and improvement projects are under way in Minneapolis-St. Paul; Miami; Portland, Ore.; Columbus, Ohio; and Philadelphia.

All this is aimed to accommodate the enormous growth in airline travel. Passenger miles flown by scheduled and unscheduled airlines last year totaled 25,800,000,000, compared with only 6,313,312,000 ten years earlier.

Canadian Chiefs Save Ohioan from Gallows

OTTAWA (AP)—The Federal Cabinet has commuted the death sentence of Gerald Thomas Campbell, 30, of Willoughby, Ohio, to life imprisonment.

Campbell was convicted last Feb. 14 in Sault Ste. Marie of the knife slaying of his wife, Marie Ellen Cain Campbell, 21. Campbell had been sentenced to hang next Tuesday.

In the same period the number of domestic passengers rose from 12,890,000 to 45,000,000.

Transcontinental Flights In Hour Expected in Offing

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles reporting the vast changes now being recorded in America's massive transportation system.

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Writer

"You will be able to cross the continent in scarcely more than an hour, span the Atlantic in less than two hours and the Pacific in scarcely four hours."

This is Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of Eastern Air Lines, talking. He is not talking about the distant future. He is talking about the day after tomorrow.

The airplane and the private automobile are revolutionizing transportation in the United States. This revolution will accelerate in the next decade.

In two years, Rickenbacker says airplanes "will be cruising high above the weather with silent, vibrationless comfort, initially in the speed band of sound, or about 600 miles an hour. Continuing advances in the development of jet power will move these speeds up to 2,500 miles an hour."

On the ground, millions of private automobiles will travel new, high-speed highways.

Within the next 13 years, 9 out of every 10 cities with a population of 50,000 or more will be linked by new superhighways. The federal government will finance construction of 41,000 miles. Estimated cost: more than $7 billion dollars.

Today, toll highways amount to only a little more than 2,000 miles.

If the cities are straining in traffic jams as drivers hunt for parking spaces, if they are losing passenger train service, if they cannot solve the problems of mass transportation—if all these things are true, and they are, there is one thing they can do. They can build airports. Look around.

In Salt Lake City work will start in July on a 10-million-dollar project to accommodate jet airplanes.

New Orleans recently acquired Moisant International Airport at

Kenner, La., 15 miles west, and is engaged in a two-million-dollar renovation program. A monorail system to downtown New Orleans is being discussed. Indianapolis is building longer runways (for jets) at its new air terminal, completed in 1956.

New facilities at Boston's Logan Airport will cost 23 million dollars.

A two-million-dollar improvement program is scheduled to start this year at Des Moines Municipal Airport.

Kansas City has constructed a new airport 17 miles north of its downtown area. Toledo has a new airport. St. Louis completed its modernistic Lambert-St. Louis Field only two years ago, finds it is already taxed to handle traffic.

Chicago has put O'Hare Field into operation, helping to relieve congestion at the nation's most heavily used airport—Midway. From 1947 until the end of this year the Port Authority of New York will have put 235 million dollars into Idlewild International Airport.

Major airport construction and improvement projects are under way in Minneapolis-St. Paul; Miami; Portland, Ore.; Columbus, Ohio; and Philadelphia.

All this is aimed to accommodate the enormous growth in airline travel. Passenger miles flown by scheduled and nonscheduled airlines last year totaled 25,800,000,000, compared with only 6,313,312,000 ten years earlier.

Canadian Chiefs Save Ohioan from Gallows

OTTAWA (AP)—The Federal Cabinet has commuted the death sentence of Gerald Thomas Campbell, 30, of Willoughby, Ohio, to life imprisonment.

Campbell was convicted last Feb. 14 in Sault Ste Marie in the knife slaying of his wife, Marie Ellen Cain Campbell, 21. Campbell had been sentenced to hang next Tuesday.

In the same period the number of domestic passengers rose from 12,890,000 to 45,000,000.

Science Takes New Hold

Proof that Washington now means business about matching Soviet science and technology is the government's selection of a man to be science adviser in the State Department. He is Dr. Wallace R. Brode, 57-year-old chemistry professor at Ohio State University.

Dr. Brode will fill a post that has languished unfilled for two years during the period when science was not regarded as all important. The sputniks have changed all that, of course.

The Ohio chemist, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, said two immediate tasks face him. One is organizing a staff in the State Department to help him in his $16,000-a-year job. Next will be selecting and persuading a half dozen scientists to go abroad to be scientific attaches at U. S. embassies. The first will likely be in England, Japan and India.

Thus the United States is putting forth efforts to make up for lost ground, working to convince the world that this country is deeply interested in science and technology and has no intention of letting the laurels remain with the communists.

Ex-Preacher Stars on Broadway

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A former boy evangelist has conquered Broadway in his first role.

Lonnie Sattin, son of an itinerant Negro minister, is being hailed by critics for his surprise success in the musical, "Body Beautiful" in which he plays a professional boxer.

His dramatic, concert-trained voice steals the show.

"I came up singing," said Lonnie. "I can't remember a time when I didn't sing. You know how it is with a minister's boy, you get put in a choir as soon as you can toddle."

Sattin, one of nine children, was born in Jacksonville, Fla., but moved as a child to Philadelphia. He earned his way through Temple University by working as a barber, house painter, and door-to-door salesman.

His childhood interests were theology and law but for a brief time he thought of becoming a prizefighter. Then he worked out with Honeyville Johnson.

"He clipped me a good one on the chin," said Lonnie, "and I decided right then in favor of theology."

Following the example of his father, a Church of God pastor, Lonnie toured the seaboard from New York to North Carolina as an evangelist.

"In the ministry, I always sang," he recalled. "I found that music would often reach people's spirit in a way that words couldn't."

After winning a singing contest sponsored by the National Freedom Day Assn., Sattin gave a series of concerts that won attention. Soon he had to face a choice of staying in the ministry or seeking a musical career. It took him four months to make up his mind.

"I hated to turn my back on my father, who always had wanted me to follow in his footsteps," said Lonnie. "My father knew the spiritual torment I was going through. I finally decided to make song my ministry when he told me, 'You have to live with yourself, son. You can't preach with a divided mind.'"

Lonnie, a star for Capitol Records, seasoned himself for several years as a band singer and supper club entertainer before making his Broadway debut.

Lonnie and his wife, Tina, a former law student, have two children. She acts as his personal business manager.

Still in his mid-20s, Lonnie neither smokes nor drinks. Every now and then he accepts an invitation to preach or give Sunday School talks to boys' clubs.

"Sometimes," said his wife, "I wonder whether Lonnie is as far away from the ministry as he thinks he is."

"I do miss it," said Lonnie. "When you pray over a sick child, when you officiate at a wedding or a funeral, then you're at the real heart of people. You can't touch people that way in a night club. But a man can't have everything or be everybody — and I've made my choice."

West Germany - - a Miracle

By George Sokolsky

The so-called West German miracle is a product of hard work and national will and that, as much as any other factor, has altered the face of post-war Europe. It has established the possibility of an economic if not altogether a political union of Western European countries.

The weakness of Western Europe, since World War I, has been an inability of most of the countries that compose it, to recognize that in the 20th Century it would grow increasingly difficult for empires to live on the produce of the weak and backward nations. The basic error of Western Europe was that it fought World War I at all.

The destruction of the Kaiser's Germany and the Austro-Hungarian Empire; the stimulation of nationalistic discontent among Asian and African peoples; the impact of the United States upon European life; the Bolshevik Revolution; and the emergence of Japan as an equal of the West in the councils of nations—these and the elimination of the doctrine of the freedom of the seas by emergence of the submarine and the airplane as weapons of war, inevitably led to the ultimate destruction of the British, French and Dutch Empires.

Therefore, Western Europe was left without real political power and economic stability. Germany, which for 1,000 years, in one political form or another, had kept the Slav out of Europe, no longer was capable of maintaining any political force until Hitler emerged with the one possible doctrine that could unite a broken people, namely the Nietzschean concept of the Superman and Houston Stewart Chamberlain's doctrine of the superiority of the Nordic races.

Hitler succeeded after all other German wise men had failed. He re-established Germany as a strong nation, strong enough to hold the entire world at bay for six years on multiple fronts. Whether Hitler was mad or sane, right or wrong, decent or obscene no longer matters, for he is dead, burned on a pyre of his own making. What does matter and what is so frightening is that this strategy and tactics are now being used by Nasser in the Arab world.

After World War II, Germany was really broken. Divided into zones, with the Russians masters of Berlin and Vienna, with the United States illogically pro-Russian and indeed a poor reed to lean upon, it looked very much as though Henry Morgenthau, Jr.'s concept of a Spartan peace would come about by historic causes.

Then West Germany went to work. While all the rest of Europe was wondering what to do with its rubble and most countries were wasting American aid, West Germany set out to form capital. Between 1948 and 1956, productivity in Germany rose from 100 to 214 (using index numbers).

Economic success must be accompanied by political stability and international growth in importance. West Germany has produced a stable government under Chancellor Adenauer; it has so grown in international importance that Adenauer dominated the recent meeting of NATO. It has again become a formidable power.

It has not all been political. Much of West Germany's success is due to the will of the people. For instance, the restoration of industry became almost a religious compulsion, everybody pitching in. What has been the plague of Great Britain, for instance, the union sabotage of new techniques and the realignment of labor to meet new methods, hardly affected West Germany.

Also there have been fewer strikes than in most countries, despite the fact that Soviet Russia is just across the street in East Germany and has been conducting an anti-governmental and anti-capitalist campaign in West Germany.

Prof. David McCord Wright, in his pamphlet, "Post-War West German and United Kingdom Recovery," summarizes the situation in these paragraphs:

"The economic choice faced by West Germany after the currency reform, and granting of substantial autonomy in 1948, was a basic one. Had she followed the prevalent European and U.K. labor pattern she would have gone in for heavy control, rationing, state directed investment, sharply progressive taxation, tremendous emphasis upon equality.

"Instead her policies were entirely different. Emphasis was placed upon incentive rather than literal equality, upon a free market rather than planning, upon modernization rather than routine. She did maintain a most generous and comprehensive social security system, but did not accept the usual myth that such a system is necessarily linked with high progressive income taxes."

Prepare for Insect Bites

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Let's talk about insects. Oh, you don't have to rush out to put up the screens I don't mean to imply that you have to worry about mosquitoes, hornets and bees at this time of the year.

But if you or members of your family are extremely sensitive to their bites and stings, you had better start thinking of doing something about it.

Severe allergic reactions to such bites fortunately are pretty rare. But there are many persons who suffer considerable swelling at the site of these bites. And every so often we hear of someone who died as the result of a bee sting.

There are extracts from bees, hornets, wasps, mosquitoes and other insects available for immunizing persons against allergic reactions from the attacks of such insects.

If you think you may need protection like this, better see your doctor, so he can begin immunization therapy soon.

I would like to pass along a few other tips which those of you who are allergic to insect bites may find useful next summer.

For one thing, don't take off on a long run, or otherwise strain yourself physically, after being nicked by an insect to which you may be allergic.

The reaction from a bite or sting will reach its peak within 30 minutes after the insect attacks. This may mean impairment of circulation. For that reason, it's best to conserve your strength and keep your circulation as normal as possible.

It's probably a good idea, too, to keep warm after you are bitten. Anyone extremely allergic to insect bites should call a doctor after being bitten.

For more mild reactions, such as swelling around the site of the insect's attack, your doctor probably will prescribe lotions or creams. He may also recommend internal use of antihistamines to help relieve the itching.

That's all I've got to say about insects now. We'll discuss the little pests again when the weather gets a bit warmer.

R. K.: I was operated on for prostate trouble six months ago. The trouble has now recurred. Is this possible?

Answer: When the prostate is increased in size, it sometimes is impossible to remove it entirely when surgery is performed. Therefore, the condition may recur, under these conditions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sign of the times: Washington is crowded with ideas on what to do about outer space. A year ago it was no problem. That was before the two Sputniks and the American satellite.

Until Thursday—when the Senate created a special 13-man committee to study the problem—Congress faced gathering chaos on how to handle it.

Bills, with more to come, have been offered to turn space control over to various agencies, such as the Atomic Energy Commission, Defense Department, Air Force, National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, and so on.

But various committees of Congress have jurisdiction over legislation affecting various agencies of government. Each would have to consider a bill which came within its jurisdiction.

The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy would have a say on any bill involving the AEC, for example. But outer space includes weather problems. The Commerce Committee handles weather problems.

The Armed Services Committee no doubt would have to get in on the time a fellow has read 'em all, he can have finished his cigar.

the act since the armed forces would be up to its neck in outer space. And, since any agency would need money, the Appropriations Committee would definitely have a say.

So a single bill — which cut across many phases of outer space — might have to be considered by many committees, each wanting to hold hearings. Committee chairmen would probably fight over getting first crack at the bill.

It goes further. For example: Secretary of Defense McElroy and other top government officials might have to testify on the same bill before a whole squad of committees. They wouldn't have much time left for their jobs.

What was needed was some coordinated attempt to examine the whole problem in an attempt to find out whether some existing government agency, or agencies, or some new one should be given the outer space assignment.

To bring order out of chaos the special 13-man committee was set up, with Sen. Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader, as the likely chairman. The other 12 members would be two (a Democrat and a Republican) from each of the six committees, all of them likely to have a hand in space problems.

They are the 'Senate Armed Services, Foreign Relations, Commerce, Appropriations, Government Operations and Atomic Energy committees.

This special committee will hold hearings when it gets organized and collects a staff. When that's over, and it should take months, the committee can make its recommendations.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower has assigned McElroy to take charge of all outer space work done in the Defense Department. And Eisenhower has directed his scientific adviser, Dr. James R. Killian Jr., to make recommendations to him on whether the program should be left with McElroy or shifted to another branch of government.

Science Takes New Hold

Proof that Washington now means business about matching Soviet science and technology is the government's selection of a man to be science adviser in the State Department. He is Dr. Wallace R. Brode, 57-year-old chemistry professor at Ohio State University.

Dr. Brode will fill a post that has languished unfilled for two years during the period when science was not regarded as all important. The sputniks have changed all that, of course.

The Ohio chemist, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, said two immediate tasks face him. One is organizing a staff in the State Department to help him in his $16,000-a-year job. Next will be selecting and persuading a half dozen scientists to go abroad to be scientific attaches at U. S. embassies. The first will likely be in England, Japan and India.

Thus the United States is putting forth efforts to make up for lost ground, working to convince the world that this country is deeply interested in science and technology and has no intention of letting the laurels remain with the communists.

PHILIP TEACHES AN ETHIOPIAN THE MEANING OF A GOSPEL PASSAGE

Scripture—Acts 8:26-38; I Timothy 4:6-16; II Timothy 2:1-2; 3:10-17.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
AS AN introduction to this lesson on the teaching ministry of the church, we are assigned Acts 8:26-38. There we are told of Philip's teaching of an Ethiopian nobleman and his conversion to Christ.

An angel of God spoke to Philip, who was a deacon in the early church at Jerusalem and St. Luke tells us, preached and converted many in Samaria. In Acts 8:26-38, the angel spoke to Philip, saying, "Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert."

Philip obeyed the angel and when he reached the desert he saw a man sitting in a chariot reading. He was an eunuch, and a noble and treasurer of the queen, Candace. (This was a name given to a line of queens in Central Africa, as the name Pharaoh was given to Egyptian rulers.)

As they came to some water along the way the eunuch said: "See, here is water: what doth hinder me to be baptized?" Philip answered: "If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest," and the answer was, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the son of God."

He commanded the chariot to stand still and both went into the water, where Philip baptized him. Paul wrote to his "dearly beloved son" Timothy, a young man whom Paul himself probably had converted. He reminded him to keep the brethren in remembrance of the goodness of God and to be thankful for His blessing. "Thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ," he said, "nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast obtained. But refuse profane and old wives' tales, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness."

Also he said: "Let no man deceive thee."

MEMORY VERSE

"Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them; for in doing this thou shalt save thyself, and them that hear thee."—I Timothy 4:16.

This man was returning home from Jerusalem, where he had been worshipping.

The spirit told Philip to go near to the chariot, which he did, and he heard the man read from the book of Isaiah. Philip asked, "understandest thou what thou readest?" The man answered, "How can I, except some man should guide me?" and he asked Philip to come into the chariot and sit with him.

The words which the eunuch read were: "He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so openeth He not his mouth. In His humiliation His judgment was taken away; and who shall declare His generation? for His life is taken from the earth." Philip told the man it was a prophecy of the coming of Jesus, His trial, judgment and death. He preached Jesus Christ to this man who became the first Gentile convert.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have a cute, sexy looking (and acting) daughter-in-law, of whom I am actually fond. But she is a source of distress to me, when visiting me and my husband—who is her husband's stepfather.

Kate (I'll call her) adores flirting with and playing up to my husband Ken; and he gets just as much fun out of egging her on. He comments admiringly on aspects of her good looks; and sometimes, underscores the compliment with an approving pat. She wears clothes that emphasize her curves, of which she is very conscious and proud.

When she sits or lolls, she strikes a revealing pose, to say the least. As our guest, she runs about the house in a scanty sleeping robe; or dashes to the bathroom in no clothes. Also while here, often she stays abed until noon, at times unclad, with the door open, leaving the care of her children to me. I love them and the opportunity to be with them, but she doesn't ask the privilege—just assumes it.

Most of this behavior is when her husband (my son) is away—but my husband is home. Once I heard Brian (my son) remonstrate with Kate about her scanty apparel, and she snapped that it was just his dirty mind that saw anything wrong.

I get much the same answer from my husband, who accuses me of jealousy if I object to his flirtatious encouragement of her. Of if I protest, privately, his suggestive quips at her, or his own half-clad appearances at times, draped in a towel or wearing shorts, he says my remarks are out of order. His scorn is monumental. He says, "You talk as if I were making passes at her."

Maybe I am jealous or stupid, but somehow I can't accept this as sound behavior. I don't know how to curb it, without causing a family rift—which I definitely do not want. Another visit from Kate is imminent, this time without Brian along; and already I am

Second Shakespeare Enterprise Folds Up

TOLEDO (AP)—After two summers of cultural successes and financial flops, the Shakespeare-Under-the-Stars productions at the Toledo Zoo amphitheater are being dropped. This is the second Shakespearean enterprise to fold in Ohio since last summer. Earlier, a similar program was dropped at Antioch College, Yellow Springs. The same group of actors performed at both festivals.

nervous in anticipation of the strain. Have you any suggestions? T. S.

DEAR T. S.: Ken and Kate are behaving indecently, of course, in a smirking conspiracy to enjoy their suggestive exchange of improper ideas—supposedly in a way that can't be proved against them. And quite in the spirit of this immoral performance, they are dishonestly insisting that black is white—that they are above reproach whereas your mind is in the gutter, with Brian's.

As for what you might do to clean up the situation—the first move towards sanity, all around, is to get straight on this point: Their conduct is wrong. Indeed it is emotionally sick, considering the whole picture.

You have every reason to object to Kate's bawdy behavior as your guest. And as a sensible mother and a woman of character, you should call her down in plain language, in private if possible; but in the presence of Brian and Ken, if necessary. And at the risk of creating a family rift that might never heal, if such is the price of taking a stand in support of common decency.

Traditionally in our culture, a woman is the guardian and standard bearer of morality, in family life and social relations. And if Kate ignores this obligation, due to infatuation with her own body, and shames her husband and demoralizes yours, in her greed for sex approval, then it becomes your duty to police her performance in your house, at least. So tell her what you object to, and why; and the mode of decorum you want in future.

After all, there's no use trying to circumvent her delicately. Refinement of policy were wasted on Kate, coming from an older woman who disapproves her tactics. She might think you jealous, defensive and wishful, instead of annoyed, disgusted and sure of yourself.

Also, timid diplomacy is no help to your husband either, in his present state of mind. But possibly you can benefit all—Kate, Brian and Ken—in the long run, if you are fiercely forthright in speaking your mind, about the real black-and-white of this situation.

WITCH DOCTOR is cheaper!

But the few extra dollars that you pay for reliable modern prescriptions save you time and money in the long run. Why? Because today rapid recoveries can often be made with just a single prescription. Burdensome expenses involved in long sickness are eliminated. As recently as ten years ago, your doctor had to rely upon medicines that were slow-acting and uncertain. True, your prescription cost less then, but today, because of modern research, you get far greater results for your medicine-dollar.

PHILIP TEACHES AN ETHIOPIAN THE MEANING OF A GOSPEL PASSAGE

Scripture—Acts 8:26-38; I Timothy 4:6-16; II Timothy 2:1-8; 3:10-17.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
AS AN introduction to this lesson on the teaching ministry of the church, we are assigned Acts 8:26-38. There we are told of Philip's teaching of an Ethiopian nobleman and his conversion to Christ.
An angel of God spoke to Philip, who was a deacon in the early church at Jerusalem and St. Luke tells us, preached and converted many in Samaria. In Acts 8:26-38, the angel spoke to Philip, saying, "Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert."

As they came to some water along the way the eunuch said: "See, here is water; what do I hinder me to be baptized?" Philip answered: "If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest," and the answer was, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the son of God." He commanded the chariot to stand still and both went into the water, where Philip baptized him. Paul wrote to his "dearly beloved son" Timothy, a young man whom Paul himself probably had converted. He reminded him to keep the brethren in remembrance of the goodness of God and to be thankful for His blessings. "Thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ," he said, "nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast obtained. But refuse profane and old wives' tales, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness." Also he said: "Let no man despise thy youth, but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity."
"Thou therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also."
Children are familiar with teachers, as they learn from them to read, write, cipher, and so on, from the primary grades through college. The Sunday school should make them familiar with the Scriptures, as their studies in secular schools acquaint them with good reading in other fields. There is a great deal of trashy literature presented to the public in our day. Teachers should try to encourage their classes to seek good books and especially to induce them to read the Scriptures and get inspiration and comfort in trouble from those pages.

MEMORY VERSE

Non-Partisan City Voting Setup Hit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Both major political parties in Cleveland are behind a drive to eliminate the non-partisan election system under which independents such as Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze and former Mayor Frank J. Lausche have won election.

More than 20,000 signatures have been obtained on petitions asking that a proposed amendment eliminating the system be placed on the May primary ballot. The amendment would eliminate the present non-partisan method of nominating and electing a mayor, and bring back the partisan ballot.

Fashion Show Highlights Meeting For Junior Women

Members of Circleville Junior Women's Club were treated to something new and different in the way of Fashion Shows when they met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Richard Pettit, 568 Springhollow Road.

Mrs. Stanley Spring, program chairman, presented Mrs. Harry Turner who served as narrator for a fashion show consisting of swim suits covering the period from "Gay Nineties" to present day. Models for the fashion show were Mrs. Ray Sapp, Mrs. Ted Wolfe, Mrs. Joe Drake, Mrs. Harold Whitmore and Mrs. Earl Wolfe.

The show began with a blue stripe suit from the 1890's when polka dots, ruffles and voluminous pantaloons characterized an era of timid wading. During the fabulous 20's, all America, young and old, took to the sun and water.

By 1923 America was learning to swim in earnest and a girl could bare her arms and a good portion of her leg without risking gossip. The suits shown for this period were the swim suits that changed bathing to swimming. It was during this period too, that match-mates were first created and it was possible for men and ladies to buy matching suits which were almost interchangeable.

It was during the 30's as the suits indicated that the red diving girl became a part of the bathing suit. Trademarked for advertising, she captured the fancy of millions and became America's first pin-up girl. In the late 30's swim suits were pioneering in figure control and lastest, rayon and other materials were finding a place in the sun and water with the all wool suit.

During the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Paul Jackson, the group voted to hold a square dance early in April with Mrs. William Speakman serving as chairman. Mrs. Robert Christy was named treasurer to replace Mrs. Jerry Cunningham who has moved to Columbus. An announcement was made of the Legislation Day for the South-east District of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs which will be held in Chillicothe on March 3.

Mrs. C. N. Felkey was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Earl Weaver was a guest for the meeting at the close of which refreshments were served by the hostess and her co-hostesses Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Robert Christy.

Stork Shower Is Given for Mrs. Jorgensen

A stork shower was given for Mrs. Paul Jorgensen, Plum St., by Mrs. Mary Ellen Estell, 212 E. Main St., Wednesday evening. Miss Karen Kneecce, sister of the honored guest, served as co-hostess.

Contests were conducted with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Alice Davis, Dorothy and Carolyn Chaffin. Others present were, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Alta Kneecce, Sarah Mower, Mrs. Wendell Sowards, Mrs. Betty Winks, Mrs. Rose Helen Martin, Mrs. Mildred Caldwell, Mrs. Kenneth Vincent, Mrs. Mary Lou Mowery, Mrs. Robert Blankenship, Mrs. Naomi Chaffin, Mrs. Gloria McNamara and Cindy, Mrs. Sarah Reed, Mrs. Polly Jackson, Mrs. Marilyn Wolfe, Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson, Mrs. Grace Cupp, Mrs. Betty Cottrell, Mrs. Jerry Brigner.

Those sending gifts but unable to attend were, Miss Bessie Riffe, Mrs. Laura Wolf, Mrs. Wilma Hughes, Mrs. Charlotte Ash, Mrs. Esther Stewart, Mrs. Grace Carper, Mrs. Kate Curry and Miss Bertha Waite.

Pickaway County Junior High tournament which netted approximately $375.

It was then moved and passed by a vote of seven pro, three con and three abstaining to give each of the 14 schools participating $25. An added $25 was given to Wayne, Washington and Muhlenberg junior high schools because they had no high school athletics to further support their athletic program.

THE drawing for the county tournament was conducted by John Hardin, superintendent of Ashville-Harrison school. The superintendent of the previous year's tournament winner assumes management for the following year.

Much confusion reigned over the drawings last night because league play wasn't to be completed until tonight and there may be changes in the standings. Therefore some school officials felt that the drawings should have waited until after tonight's games. It was finally decided to flip coins and odd man between the schools who could end up in ties.

In the opening game which will start at 7:30 p. m., February 12, Darby will tangle with Jackson. The Trojans had first choice in the draw by virtue of being the league leader.

There is a possibility that Darby could lose tonight and Ashville could win and throw the two teams into a first place tie. Therefore, the two teams flipped a coin (Hardin represented Ashville and Brice Connell for Darby). Darby won the flip and had first choice win or lose, so its position is permanent.

Another possibility was that Ashville could lose tonight and Scioto win and end up in a tie for second place. Ashville won on the flip of the coin. Coach Russ Gregg then drew No. 11 position for the Broncos and they landed in the seventh bracket. The Broncos will meet the winner of the Williamsport-Salt Creek game at 9 p. m. February 17.

The above confusion was mild compared to what followed as the possibility arose of a three way tie for third place and four matchings were required to satisfy all concerned.

It was decided that the county's third place team will play in the second game on opening night and will meet the fifth place team. The fourth place team will meet Monroe in the second game on February 14.

WALNUT and New Holland could win tonight and Scioto lose, throwing the three teams into a third place tie. An odd man situation developed and Walnut lost. If the above case happens Walnut will be the fifth seeded team and will play in the second game on opening night.

The next situation to present itself was that Scioto and Walnut could lose and New Holland win for a Buffalo and Bulldog tie. New Holland won the flip and will be the third place team if the above happens. The Bulldogs will then play on opening night in the second game.

If Scioto, Walnut and New Holland win then the Buffaloes will have third place all to themselves and the Tigers and Bulldogs would be tied for fourth position as they are now. The two schools flipped and Walnut won fourth place. If this situation develops then Walnut will play the second game at 8:20 p. m. February 14 and will face Monroe. The last possible situation was if Scioto and New Holland lost and Walnut won then the Buffaloes and the Tigers would tie for third. Scioto finally won a toss and if the above comes about tonight then Scioto would meet Monroe on the second night of tournament play.

When all the possibilities were gambled off among the seeded schools the remaining six teams drew alphabetically.

SALT CREEK, represented by coach Bob Sanders, drew 10th position and will meet Williamsport in the first game February 14. Coach Paul Lloyd drew second position and will meet the county's fourth place team February 14.

Pickaway will meet the winner of the Darby-Jackson contest February 14 at 9:40 p. m. Coach Jim Shaw drew eighth position and will meet the winner of the contest between the county's third and fifth place teams.

Needless to say, the group voted unanimously to hold next year's drawings after the league has been fully completed.

Tigers Ready For McClain

Circleville Seeks Repeat Victory

Circleville High's cage forces will be looking for their fourth South Central Ohio League win in seven starts tonight when Greenfield comes here.

The Tigers are hoping for a repeat of their December meeting with the McClain cagers. In that test the Tigers came through with a 69-54 victory.

It also was a good night for Tiger ace Bill Johnson who hit for 35 points, his highest production of the season.

Greenfield is in the SCO League cellar with only one win in six starts. Circleville is third with a 3-3 mark.

A WIN for the Tigers tonight will give them nine victories in 16 outings. The locals also hope to pull out of a cold spell which plagued them Tuesday night in a 44-36 loss to Waverly.

The Tigers were cold as ice as they collected only 12 field goals in 65 attempts for a disastrous 18.4 per cent average.

Likely starters for Coach Dick Boyd probably will be Johnson, Mike Hosler and Jon Pacher with Don Rowland, Walt Arledge, Dick Smith, Asa Elsea and John Wright available to fill the other two spots and provide replacement duty.

Next Friday the Tigers travel to Hillsboro for their last road game of the season and the following Friday they wind up the season by playing host to Logan.

Idaho Shuns Bout For Fullmer, Rhodes

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—The Idaho Athletic Commission has refused to give its blessings to a proposed fight between Gene Fullmer, ex-middletown champion from West Jordan, Utah, and Mickey Rhodes of Boise.

Chairman Eddie Cole said "the commission doesn't feel Mickey Rhodes would be a suitable opponent for Gene Fullmer."

But Cole added such a fight might be sanctioned later "if Rhodes proved to be in good condition and demonstrated it in fights leading up to such a bout."

Mountaineers Chalk No. 16

Alert, Poised Team Defeats St. John's

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Get yourself two kids who can set things up and take charge. Pick a center who can rebound, is mobile and can shoot. Add a pair of forwards who drive, shoot and follow shots. Put 'em all together and you have West Virginia, the nation's No. 1 major college basketball team.

Poised, alert and confident. That's how the Mountaineers looked as they built a 16-1 record in the Garden's main bout by shaking off a scrappy St. John's of Brooklyn for an 87-78 decision Thursday night.

Holy Cross scored a 79-74 victory over New York University in the Garden opener. Connecticut used height and a late spurt for a 107-95 victory over Vermont, and Massachusetts took charge in the second half to beat Rhode Island 65-60 in a pair of Yankee Conference games.

Western Michigan slipped past Kent 79-78 in the Mid-American. Little St. Peter's (N.J.) rapped Loyola of Chicago 92-63. William & Mary whipped Hampden-Sydney 85-59.

West Virginia, long a one-man show with All America Hot Rod Hundley, got its big scoring from sophomore Jerry West with 21. But it was the Mountaineers' usual balanced attack that did it.

Able Al Seiden, a 5-10 handyman, was top scorer with 30 points and triggered St. John's spirited, almost desperate first-half play that five times hauled the Redmen from behind and put them ahead 40-38 at the intermission.

Holy Cross built and blew a 10-point lead, but Jack Whalen, benched early in the second half with four personals, came back to revive the Crusaders. He and Tom Ryan, who scored on a set shot that put Holy Cross ahead to stay with 1:51 left, each scored 19.

Wilmington '5' Finally Tastes Cage Defeat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All of Ohio's 40 basketball-playing colleges have one thing in common. They all have been beaten.

Wilmington, which went into action Thursday night the last of the unbeaten teams, joined the 39 other colleges and universities in defeat. They lost to Capital in Columbus, 82-68. The Quakers had established a new school record in winning their first 13 games this season.

Capital led the entire game. The Quakers did cut the lead to two points at the end of the first half, 37-35. But that threat to the Lutherans was short-lived. Capital scored 19 points in the first seven minutes of the second half before Wilmington could tally.

Only one conference game was played Thursday night and that one turned out to be an upset.

Western Michigan won its first Mid-American game in eight starts, edging Kent State, 79-78, on the Flashes' home floor. Kent is 2-6 in the conference.

Stuebenville used Wilmington's defeat and its 80-58 victory over West Liberty (W. Va.) College to move to the top of the state's cage standings. The Barons are 21-1.

Elsewhere around the state, Case Tech dropped Penn, 74-63; Northern Michigan swept past Ohio Northern 92-75. Western Reserve stopped a last-minute rally to edge Hiram, 74-70; Morris Harvey of Charleston, W. Va., swamped Marietta, 100-74, and Rio Grande tripped Wilberforce, 77-70.

Women's Match Bowling Planned

DAYTON (AP)—The national women's match team bowling championships will be revived this year with a two-day elimination meet in Dayton Feb. 8-9 to choose two finalists. The contest was discontinued in 1953.

Twenty four teams, including the Sanatorium Majors, the 1953 champions, will bowl six elimination contests on Saturday and six on Sunday. The top two teams will then bowl a home and home series beginning Feb. 22 to select the winner.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Precise pitching and putting sent Frank Stranahan, Bill Johnston and Manuel de la Torre into today's second round of the $15,000 Tucson Open golf tourney with a one-stroke lead. They carded 6-under-par 64s. None went over par on any hole.

High School Tournament Setup Readied

1,033 Teams in Ohio Set To Take Annual Trail to Glory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The tournament setup for Ohio's 1,033 high school basketball teams is complete today.

Some of the county eliminations already are under way, trimming the huge Class A field of 646 teams down to sectional tourney size. The 387 Class AA teams stay out of tourney action until the sectional events, to be completed by March 1.

Sectionals are booked on 41 fronts in Class AA, and in 34 communities in Class A. District meets, to be completed by March 8, are in a dozen Class AA and 13 Class A sites.

Braves Can Win Again — Haney

By FRED HANEY

MILWAUKEE (AP)—I think the Milwaukee Braves can win again. I believe the 1958 club will be stronger than the one which won the National League pennant and beat the New York Yankees in the World Series.

First of all, we don't figure to have the number of injuries we had last season. Secondly, our pitching staff should be just as strong, if not stronger. Thirdly, any team that goes through a season as we did last year with young players, should gain from the added experience.

I am quite satisfied with the team as it finished last year but we may need a little stronger hitting bench. Much depends upon the condition of Bill Bruton, who underwent a knee operation during the winter. The doctors say he will be all right. The winter's rest should bring Joe Adcock back to normal again. As you know, he broke his leg during mid-season and although he was back in the lineup in September, he wasn't himself.

I believe the acquisition of Bob Rush and Don Kaiser from Chicago will help our pitching staff. I've also heard fine reports on Carleton Willey and Joe Jay, both of whom had outstanding seasons with our Wichita farm team. And you've probably noticed how Juan Pizarro has been burning up the Puerto Rican League this winter. Of course, we still have Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Gene Conley, Bob Buhl and Bob Trowbridge as starters, along with Ernie Johnson, Don McMahon and Phil Paine in the bullpen.

I am well satisfied with our catching. Del Crandall did a fine job last season, and Del Rice is an excellent man behind the plate. Carl Sawatski gives us additional punch there.

I don't expect any infield worries either. At first base we should be able to start with a sound Adcock and a greatly improved Frank Torre. The rest of the infield is set with Red Schoendienst at second, Johnny Logan at short and Eddie Mathews at third. Felix Mantilla and Casey Wise, obtained from Chicago will give us adequate infield protection in case of injuries.

If Bruton is fit, the outfield will consist of Hank Aaron in right, Wes Covington in left and Bruton in center. Then there's reliable Andy Pafko, Bob Hazle, who had a wonderful rookie year, and rookie Ray Shearer, who batted .316, hit 29 home runs and drove in 110 runs with Wichita last year. We have a great prospect by the name of Al Spangler who is coming out of the service. Next—Harry Craft, Kansas City

County Tourney Draw Set

After two hours last night of flipping of coins and odd manning in case of ties, the Pickaway County superintendents, principals, coaches and male teachers definitely placed eight of eleven teams in brackets for the forthcoming county tournament.

The tournament will begin February 12 with two games on tap. Three games will be played February 14, followed by two contests on February 17. The semi-finals will be held February 19 and the finals on February 21.

After the dinner, held at Pickaway Twp. High School cafeteria, the group moved to the auditorium for their meeting. John McPherson reported on the successful

The next situation to present itself was that Scioto and Walnut could lose and New Holland win for a Buffalo and Bulldog tie. New Holland won the flip and will be the third place team if the above happens. The Bulldogs will then play on opening night in the second game.

Baseball Managers Speak

Braves Can Win Again — Haney

By FRED HANEY

Milwaukee Braves Manager

MILWAUKEE (AP) — I think the Milwaukee-Braves can win again. I believe the 1958 club will be stronger than the one which won the National League pennant and beat the New York Yankees in the World Series.

First of all, we don't figure to have the number of injuries we had last season. Secondly, our pitching staff should be just as strong, if not stronger. Thirdly, any team that goes through a season as we did last year with young players, should gain from the added experience.

I am quite satisfied with the team as it finished last year but we may need a little stronger hitting bench. Much depends upon the condition of Bill Bruton, who underwent a knee operation during the winter. The doctors say he will be all right. The winter's rest should bring Joe Adcock back to normal again. As you know, he broke his leg during mid-season and although he was back in the lineup in September, he wasn't himself.

I believe the acquisition of Bob Rush and Don Kaiser from Chicago will help our pitching staff. I've also heard fine reports on Carleton Willey and Joe Jay, both of whom had outstanding seasons with our Wichita farm team. And you've probably noticed how Juan Pizarro has been burning up the Puerto Rican League this winter.

Of course, we still have Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Gene Conley, Bob Buhl and Bob Trowbridge as starters, along with Ernie Johnson, Don McMahon and Phil Paine in the bullpen.

I am well satisfied with our catching. Del Crandall did a fine job last season, and Del Rice is an excellent man behind the plate. Carl Sawatski gives us additional punch there.

I don't expect any infield worries either. At first base we should be able to start with a sound Adcock and a greatly improved Frank Torre. The rest of the infield is set with Red Schoendienst at second, Johnny Logan at short and Eddie Mathews at third. Felix Mantilla and Casey Wise, obtained from Chicago will give us adequate infield protection in case of injuries.

If Bruton is fit, the outfield will consist of Hank Aaron in right, Wes Covington in left and Bruton in center. Then there's reliable Andy Pafko, Bob Hazle, who had a wonderful rookie year, and rookie Ray Shearer, who batted .316, hit 29 home runs and drove in 110 runs with Wichita last year. We have a great prospect by the name of Al Spangler who is coming out of the service.

Mountaineers Chalk No. 16

Alert, Poised Team Defeats St. John's

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Get yourself two kids who can set things up and take charge. Pick a center who can rebound, is mobile and can shoot. Add a pair of forwards who drive, shoot and follow shots. Put 'em all together and you have West Virginia, the nation's No. 1 major college basketball team.

Poised, alert and confident. That's how the Mountaineers looked as they built a 16-1 record in the Garden's main bout by shaking off a scrappy St. John's of Brooklyn for an 87-78 decision Thursday night.

Holy Cross scored a 79-74 victory over New York University in the Garden opener. Connecticut used height and a late spurt for a 107-95 victory over Vermont, and Massachusetts took charge in the second half to beat Rhode Island 65-60 in a pair of Yankee Conference games.

Western Michigan slipped past Kent 79-78 in the Mid-American. Little St. Peter's (N.J.) rapped Loyola of Chicago 92-63. William & Mary whipped Hampden-Sydney 85-59.

West Virginia, long a one-man show with All America Hot Rod Hundley, got its big scoring from sophomore Jerry West with 21. But it was the Mountaineers' usual balanced attack that did it.

Able Al Seiden, a 5-10 handyman, was top scorer with 30 points and triggered St. John's spirited, almost desperate first-half play that five times hauled the Red-men from behind and put them ahead 40-38 at the intermission.

Holy Cross built and blew a 10-point lead, but Jack Whalen, benched early in the second half with four personals, came back to revive the Crusaders. He and Tom Ryan, who scored on a set shot that put Holy Cross ahead to stay with 1:51 left, each scored 19.

Wilmington '5' Finally Tastes Cage Defeat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All of Ohio's 40 basketball-playing colleges have one thing in common. They all have been beaten.

Wilmington, which went into action Thursday night the last of the unbeaten teams, joined the 39 other colleges and universities in defeat. They lost to Capital in Columbus, 82-68. The Quakers had established a new school record in winning their first 13 games this season.

Capital led the entire game. The Quakers did cut the lead to two points at the end of the first half, 37-35. But that threat to the Lutherans was short-lived. Capital scored 19 points in the first seven minutes of the second half before Wilmington could tally.

Only one conference game was played Thursday night and that one turned out to be an upset.

Western Michigan won its first Mid-American game in eight starts, edging Kent State, 79-78, on the Flashes' home floor. Kent is 2-6 in the conference.

Steubenville used Wilmington's defeat and its 80-58 victory over West Liberty (W. Va.) College to move to the top of the state's cage standings. The Barons are 21-1.

Elsewhere around the state, Case Tech dumped Penn, 74-63; Northern Michigan swept past Ohio Northern 92-75. Western Reserve stopped a last-minute rally to edge Hiram, 74-70; Morris Harvey of Charleston, W. Va., swamped Marietta, 100-74, and Rio Grande tripped Wilberforce, 77-70.

Women's Match Bowling Planned

DAYTON (AP) — The national women's match team bowling championships will be revived this year with a two-day elimination meet in Dayton Feb. 8-9 to choose two finalists. The contest was discontinued in 1953.

Twenty four teams, including the Sanatorium Majors, the 1953 champions, will bowl six elimination contests on Saturday and six on Sunday. The top two teams will then bowl a home and home series beginning Feb. 22 to select the winner.

The Circleville Herald, Friday, Feb. 7, 1958 7

IN A LEAGUE BY HIMSELF — Ted Williams, who led the majors in batting last season, hits a new all-time high in the salary league with an estimated $125,000 for the 1958 season. Red Sox general manager Joe Cronin (left) said: "I told Ted I hoped there would be many more contracts."

45 Under Par 70 In Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Precise pitching and putting sent Frank Stranahan, Bill Johnston and Manuel de la Torre into today's second round of the $15,000 Tucson Open golf tourney with a one - stroke lead. They carded 6-under-par 64s. None went over par on any hole.

The course played that way too for many of the other 42 pros and an amateur who smashed par-70. Jim Riggins, Anderson, S. C., thought his drives laid the groundwork for his 65 and a tie with John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich., in the runnerup spot.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, was in a group of eight shooting 67s. Hans Merrell, Mogadore, LONDON (AP) — England and the world of soccer went into mourning today for the seven members of the star studded Manchester United team killed in a plane disaster at Munich, Germany.

The seven were among 21 officially listed as killed in the crash of a British European Airways Thursday on its way from Belgrade, where the team had tied Red Star of Belgrade 3-3 in a quarter-final match of the World Cup soccer tournament. Eight of Britain's top sportswriters also were listed among the dead.

Bishop Isсенmann Installation Set For 11 A.M. Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Solemn rites will mark the formal installation of Bishop Clarence G. Isсенmann, as the sixth Bishop of Columbus, at 11 a. m. Tuesday in St. Joseph's Cathedral here.

The procession, which will originate from the Memorial Hall on the east of the Cathedral, will begin at 10:45 and will be led by two lay fraternal organizations, the Knights of St. John and the Knights of Columbus, followed by members of Religious Orders, the Diocesan clergy, bishops and archbishops, in that succession.

Following the long procession will be the bishop-designate who will wear gold cope and mitre. Bishop Isсенmann will proceed to the Blessed Sacrament chapel for a short visit.

A few minutes later Archbishop Karl J. Alter, presiding metropolitan and installing prelate will enter the Cathedral with his retinue.

Bishop Isсенmann will then proceed to the Sanctuary to the bald-stool at the foot of the altar on the Gospel side (left side facing the altar).

ARCHBISHOP ALTER goes to the main throne where he receives the papal documents from Msgr. Edmund A. Burke, assistant priest to the archbishop. The archbishop then gives the documents to Msgr. George Schoor, the notary, who reads the proclamation. Following the reading of the document all rise and Bishop Isсенmann proceeds to the prie-dieu (kneeler), at the foot of the altar and kneels.

The Prima Dignitas, (Msgr. Burke) then goes to the altar on the Epistle (right side facing altar) and sings the Protector Noster, a prayer asking God to bless the new Ordinary.

As soon as this prayer is concluded the choir begins the antiphon in honor of St. Joseph, patron of the Cathedral. Bishop Isсенmann then goes to the center of the altar and sings the Oration in honor of St. Joseph.

Following this prayer, Bishop Isсенmann leaves the altar and is met by Archbishop Alter in the middle of the Sanctuary. The archbishop escorts the bishop to the throne and then hands the Crozier, (the bishop's staff), to him his symbol of authority.

Archbishop Alter then tones the Te Deum, a solemn hymn of praise to God. The joint choir of St. Charles College Seminary and the Pontifical College Josephinum sings the Te Deum.

During the Te Deum, members of the Diocesan clergy, led by Msgr. James J. Carroll, chancellor, will proceed to the throne, and renew the vow of obedience taken by all diocesan clergy to the Ordinary at the time of their ordination.

Following the Chancellor to the throne will be the Diocesan Consultors, the deans of the Diocese, the officers of the Diocesan Curia, and a small group of pastors representing their brother priests.

Among the latter will be Msgr. George O. Mason, pastor of St. Joseph's parish, Circleville.

Bishop Isсенmann then goes to the altar and gives his first Solemn Blessing followed by a sermon by the new Ordinary.

The new Bishop of Columbus then vests for the Solemn Mass which will be sung by the St. Charles Choir, under the direction of Fr. James Kraus, and the Josephinum Choir under the direction of Fr. Walter Rees. The St. Charles Choir will sing the Propers of the Mass while the Josephinum Choir will sing the Ordinary.

Following the impressive ceremony a banquet will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Neil House, at 1:30 p. m. for all the members of the clergy, Msgr. Joseph Casey, pastor of St. Catherine parish, will be toastmaster for the dinner to honor the new bishop.

MSGR. GEORGE WOLZ, acting rector of St. Charles Seminary, will give the welcoming address. Archbishop Alter will give the principal address.

Bishop Isсенmann will give the response.

All members of the laity may greet the new bishop at a public reception from 8 to 10 p. m. Tuesday, in the junior and grand ballroom of the Neil House.

Members of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra will play at the banquet and the reception.

Members of the laity may also be on hand to greet the new bishop upon his arrival at 4:37 p. m. Monday at Union Station and at the Cathedral immediately following his arrival, where the bishop will give a short talk. St. Joseph's Cathedral will be open to the public on the day of the installation but all seats have been reserved. The installation will be televised from 11 a. m. to 12 noon over WLWC, channel 4, and will be broadcast over WBNS radio.

New Wright-Patterson Fund Is Released

CINCINNATI — Col. Joseph Friedlander Jr., Air Force installations representative for the Ohio River Division, reports that approximately $2,005,000 in construction funds had been released for Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton.

The new projects include a 192 man bachelor officers' quarters, a base chapel, an addition to the Wood City heating plant, and a specialized electronic laboratory.

Blushing Spud Ruled Illegal

Red Coloring on Potatoes To End

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Madam, have your potatoes been blushing lately? That situation won't last much longer.

You have the word of Dr. James R. Hay, state agriculture director, and Edward C. Haaf, chief of the Division of Food and Dairies.

They have declared war on the blushing potato, a byproduct of covering potatoes with a red wax to make them look more beautiful.

Only trouble is that when the housewife peels the potato some of the coloring—which is not poisonous—mixes with the pulp and blushing potatoes result.

The department got lots of complaints about this. Some housewives said the red artificial coloring, often quite heavy, covered defects in the potatoes such as scabbings, bruises, rotten spots and digger cuts.

"That's been going on for the last few years," Haaf said. "About 10 per cent of the potatoes sold in Ohio are colored, and most are shipped in from outside the state."

In some cases, Haaf said, old potatoes are colored to make them look like new potatoes—and sold as such.

The Agriculture Department decided artificially colored and waxed potatoes violate the Ohio food, drug and cosmetic law when defects are concealed or the potatoes are made to appear of better quality than they are.

Haaf has instructed the approximately 225 wholesale fruit and vegetable dealers in Ohio to dispose of present stocks of colored and waxed potatoes by Feb. 15.

Persons who distribute or sell colored and waxed potatoes after that will be subject to fines.

White potatoes, sweet potatoes and yams are included. Haaf said the use of a transparent wax coating on potatoes does not violate the law.

Greene Countians Turn Home Over To Tax Bureau

SPRINGFIELD — Raymond and Jean Olds have sold their $10,000 house to the Springfield office of the Internal Revenue Service for $159.55.

Internal Revenue officers said they bought the house, located about two miles outside of Yellow Springs in neighboring Greene County, after the Olds repeatedly refused to pay the $159.55 they owed in back taxes for 1953-1956.

Officials quoted Olds, a self-employed carpenter, and his wife, as saying their consciences prohibited them from paying the tax.

The government is letting the Olds live in the house for one year. At the end of the year, the couple will be given the chance to redeem the property by paying the tax, officials said.

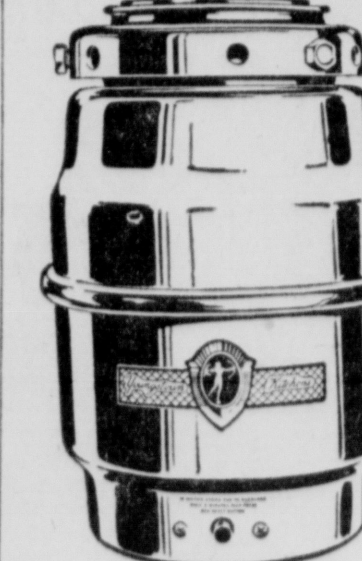

City Firemen's Fire Labeled Too Dirty

COLUMBUS — Firemen have been told to look after their own fire.

City Council received a letter Thursday from about 50 residents of the Hilltop area of Columbus. It says Engine House No. 12 has a coal furnace which is saturating the neighborhood with soot.

The neighbors want firemen there to convert to "natural gas" or some other non-smoke-production heating equipment.

Books of Matches Finally Lead To Grab of 3 Ohioans

CLEARWATER, Fla. — A persistent constable, two books of matches, and a restaurant operator with a good memory added up to an arrest here.

The constable is Walter Carey. He took the matches, found in the Palm Harbor Postoffice Jan. 29 after a $135 burglary, and went to all stores and eating places in the area. One restaurateur remembered seeing them used by a customer.

This led to George Norman, 26, from Columbus, Ohio. In his apartment here, police found Mrs. Marjorie Patterson, 37, and Joe Bliss, 21, also from Columbus. They said the three admit holding up a filling station at Oldsmar, Fla., and that Norman admitted the postoffice burglary.

Bishop Issenmann Installation Set For 11 A.M. Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Solemn rites will mark the formal installation of Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann, as the sixth Bishop of Columbus, at 11 a. m. Tuesday in St. Joseph's Cathedral here.

The procession, which will originate from the Memorial Hall on the east of the Cathedral, will begin at 10:45 and will be led by two lay fraternal organizations, the Knights of St. John and the Knights of Columbus, followed by members of Religious Orders, the Diocesan clergy, bishops and archbishops, in that succession.

Following the long procession will be the bishop-designate who will wear gold cope and mitre. Bishop Issenmann will proceed to the Blessed Sacrament chapel for a short visit.

A few minutes later Archbishop Karl J. Alter, presiding metropolitan and installing prelate will enter the Cathedral with his retinue.

Bishop Issenmann will then proceed to the Sanctuary to the faldstool at the foot of the altar on the Gospel side (left side facing the altar).

ARCHBISHOP ALTER goes to the main throne where he receives the papal documents from Msgr. Edmund A. Burkley, assistant priest to the archbishop. The archbishop then gives the documents to Msgr. George Schoor, the notary, who reads the proclamation.

Following the reading of the document all rise and Bishop Issenmann proceeds to the prie-dieu (kneeler), at the foot of the altar and kneels.

The Prima Dignitas, (Msgr. Burkley) then goes to the altar on the Epistle (right side facing altar) and sings the Protector Noster, a prayer asking God to bless the new Ordinary.

As soon as this prayer is concluded the choir begins the anti-phon in honor of St. Joseph, patron of the Cathedral. Bishop Issenmann then goes to the center of the altar and sings the Oration in honor of St. Joseph.

Following this prayer, Bishop Issenmann leaves the altar and is met by Archbishop Alter in the middle of the Sanctuary. The archbishop escorts the bishop to the throne and then hands the Crozier, (the bishop's staff), to him his symbol of authority.

Archbishop Alter then tones the Te Deum, a solemn hymn of praise to God. The joint choir of St. Charles College Seminary and the Pontifical College Josephinum sings the Te Deum.

During the Te Deum, members of the Diocesan clergy, led by Msgr. James J. Carroll, chancellor, will proceed to the throne, and renew the vow of obedience taken by all diocesan clergy to the Ordinary at the time of their ordination.

Following the Chancellor to the throne will be the Diocesan Consultors, the deans of the Diocese, the officers of the Diocesan Curia, and a small group of pastors representing their brother priests.

Among the latter will be Msgr. George O. Mason, pastor of St. Joseph's parish, Circleville.

Bishop Issenmann then goes to the altar and gives his first Solemn Blessing followed by a sermon by the new Ordinary.

The new Bishop of Columbus then vests for the Solemn Mass which will be sung by the St. Charles Choir, under the direction of Fr. James Kraus, and the Josephinum Choir under the direction of Fr. Walter Rees. The St. Charles Choir will sing the Propers of the Mass while the Josephinum Choir will sing the Ordinary.

Following the impressive ceremony a banquet will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Neil House, at 1:30 p. m. for all the members of the clergy. Msgr. Joseph Casey, pastor of St. Catherine parish, will be toastmaster for the dinner to honor the new bishop.

MSGR. GEORGE WOLZ, acting rector of St. Charles Seminary, will give the welcoming address. Archbishop Alter will give the principal address.

Bishop Issenmann will give the response.

All members of the laity may greet the new bishop at a public reception from 8 to 10 p. m. Tuesday, in the junior and grand ballroom of the Neil House.

Members of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra will play at the banquet and the reception.

Members of the laity may also be on hand to greet the new bishop upon his arrival at 4:37 p. m. Monday at Union Station and at the Cathedral immediately following his arrival, where the bishop will give a short talk.

St. Joseph's Cathedral will be open to the public on the day of the installation but all seats have been reserved. The installation will be televised from 11 a. m. to 12 noon over WLW-C, channel 4, and will be broadcast over WBNS radio.

New Wright-Patterson Fund Is Released

CINCINNATI — Col. Joseph Friedlander Jr., Air Force installations representative for the Ohio River Division, reports that approximately $2,000,000 in construction funds had been released for Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton.

The new projects include a 192 man bachelor officers' quarters, a base chapel, an addition to the Wood City heating plant, and a specialized electronic laboratory.

Blushing Spud Ruled Illegal

Red Coloring on Potatoes To End

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Madam, have your potatoes been blushing lately? That situation won't last much longer.

You have the word of Dr. James R. Hay, state agriculture director, and Edward C. Haaf, chief of the Division of Food and Dairies.

They have declared war on the blushing potato, a byproduct of covering potatoes with a red wax to make them look more beautiful. Only trouble is that when the housewife peels the potato some of the coloring—which is not poisonous—mixes with the pulp and blushing potatoes result.

The department got lots of complaints about this. Some housewives said the red artificial coloring, often quite heavy, covered defects in the potatoes such as scabbings, bruises, rotten spots and digger cuts.

"That's been going on the last few years," Haaf said. "About 10 per cent of the potatoes sold in Ohio are colored, and most are shipped in from outside the state."

In some cases, Haaf said, old potatoes are colored to make them look like new potatoes—and sold as such.

The Agriculture Department decided artificially colored and waxed potatoes violate the Ohio food, drug and cosmetic law when defects are concealed or the potatoes are made to appear of better quality than they are.

Haaf has instructed the approximately 225 wholesale fruit and vegetable dealers in Ohio to dispose of present stocks of colored and waxed potatoes by Feb. 15.

Persons who distribute or sell colored and waxed potatoes after that will be subject to fines.

White potatoes, sweet potatoes and yams are included. Haaf said the use of a transparent wax coating on potatoes does not violate the law.

Greene Countians Turn Home Over To Tax Bureau

SPRINGFIELD — Raymond and Jean Olds have sold their $10,000 house to the Springfield office of the Internal Revenue Service for $159.55.

Internal Revenue officers said they bought the house, located about two miles outside of Yellow Springs in neighboring Greene County, after the Olds repeatedly refused to pay the $159.55 they owed in back taxes for 1953-1956.

Officials quoted Olds, a self-employed carpenter, and his wife, as saying their consciences prohibited them from paying the tax.

The government is letting the Olds live in the house for one year. At the end of the year, the couple will be given the chance to redeem the property by paying the tax, officials said.

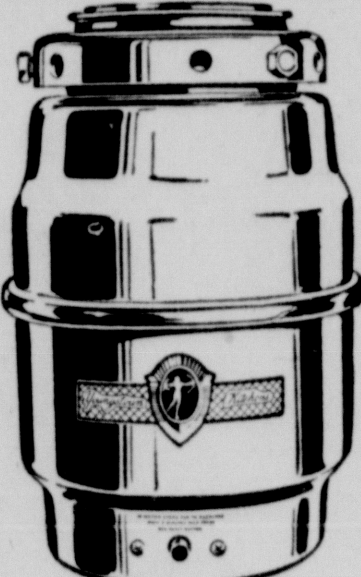

City Firemen's Fire Labeled Too Dirty

COLUMBUS — Firemen have been told to look after their own fire.

City Council received a letter Thursday from about 50 residents of the Hilltop area of Columbus. It says Engine House No. 12 has a coal furnace which is saturating the neighborhood with soot.

The neighbors want firemen there to convert to "natural gas or some other non-smoke-production heating equipment."
